Vienna, October 4, N. S.

LEtters from the Imperial Army of the 20th paſt relate, that the Body of 3 or 4000 Turks which had attacked the Rear-Guard of the Imperial Horſe as they were about to paſs the Save on the 17th, having been put to Flight by Major General Caraffa with only two Regiments of Imperialiſts, neither they, nor any other of the Enemies Forces, had appeared again after that Day. The Grand Duke of Tuſcany having left the Camp of Semlin to return to Vienna, Felt Marſhal Konigſegg went to that Camp on the 19th, leaving the Command of the Garriſon in Belgrade to Felt Marſhal Wallis. On the 20th Prince Charles of Lorrain took up his Reſidence in the Raſcian Archiepiſcopal Palace, from which Count Konigſegg had removed to the Camp. The laſt Letters from the Army are of the 27th of September, and give an Account, that the Generals Philippi and Sehr had quitted the Camp on Account of their Illneſs, and that Count Kevenhuller was expected. That upon Advice that a Body of 15000 Janiſſaries appeared on the Side of Meadia, with Deſign, as was thought, to march towards Temeſwaer, Orders had been given on the 26th to lay a new Bridge over the Save above Belgrade, by which the Cavalry was ordered to paſs that River and afterwards the Danube: That accordingly ſeveral Regiments did file off from Semlin on the 26th, and on the 27th the whole Cavalry was actually employed in paſſing both the Save and the Danube; and it was ſaid that ſome Regiments of Foot had likewiſe received Orders to paſs into the Bannat.
